Balancing communication and concentration

The visual and physical privacy established with Partito Screens offers users at the workstation the personal space while working independently or while sharing ideas with others. The successful mix of design and functionality, the clear, straight lines combined with the choice of materials and colours help maintain individuality.

WHITE FRAME

Partito Screens are available with fabric, melamine or wood veneer panels, with either a white or anodised aluminium frame.

ACRYLIC PANEL

Partito Screens with a transparent acrylic panel facilitates eye contact with colleagues across the workstation. The double-web construction provides additional reinforcement.

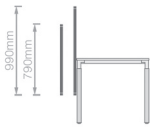

ORGA PANEL*

The organisational panel with one or five rails can be used for fixing lighting, Worktools and monitor arms.

* not available with white frame
